Dear Mr. Armstrong,

Your three pages ask about Oswald's wedding ring and wallet, about which you say he had them with him when he left them in the Payne's bedroom.

I do not recall what I said, if anything, about this but in the event you do not have all my books I enclose a list. I do recall writing about what he left there and about his arrest but not in detail.

However, I believe ^{that} ~~that~~ you begin with incorrect assumptions: that he was wearing the wedding ring when arrested and that he left the wallet there. I do not recall the pictures you refer to and cannot now take time for checking but I have no reason to believe he was wearing any wedding ring.

There is a list of what the FBI had and turned over to the Archives pursuant to the executive order of 10/31/66. Copies should be available for the FBI and/or the Archives.

There are so many things wrong with the official investigations that might if followed lead to worthwhile information but I am inclined to believe that the line you are following will not be productive or yield any significant information.

Sincerely,

Harold Weisberg
